Colette S. Ripley, organist

Colette Ripley is the Minister of Music at the First Presbyterian Church in Corvallis, Oregon. She received her doctorate with honors from the University of Kansas where she was a student of Jim Higdon and Michael Bauer. She was a finalist at the International Organ Competition at Clayton State College in Atlanta, Georgia, a performer at the American Guild of Organists Pedagogy Conference in Worcester, Massachusetts, and one of five students chosen nationally to play for Mme Duruflé at North Texas State University. Dr. Ripley has performed recitals in New York, Pennsylvania, and Chicago, Illinois.

In Oregon, Dr. Ripley was a featured artist of the Oregon State University Winter Music Fest, performing Le Chemin de la Croix by Marcel Dupré. She has also played an organ recital for the Salem Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. Upcoming recital plans include the performance of a Handel Organ Concerto with the Corvallis Chamber Orchestra, and organ works by Vierne and Dupré. Dr. Ripley has written numerous articles and edited several organ, harpsichord, and choral works by women composers.
